How to program directv genie mini remote rc73

By Maya Walker You can program your DirecTV remote to work with your other electronic devices, including a Philips DVD player. Once programmed, you can control your DVD player's power and the playing of a DVD. You do not need to program your remote again unless you switch satellite receivers or purchase a new player. To control your player after programming, you only need to select it from your remote's "Mode" switch. Turn on your Philips DVD player and ensure the DirecTV receiver is on. Slide the "Mode" switch on your DirecTV remote to "AV 1." The switch is located at the top of your remote. Press and hold the "Select" and "Mute" buttons until the remote's LED light flashes twice. Enter the code for your Philips DVD player using the remote's keypad. Codes 20646, 20539, 20503, 20675 and 20854 are the most common codes for the Philips DVD player. Point the remote at your DVD player and press the "Power" button. If the DVD player turns off, the code was correct. If not, repeat the process using one of the other codes. By Anthony Oster The Universal remote for Philips' DirecTV receivers can be programmed to also control your TV, DVD player and other components, minimizing the clutter and hassle of having to manage multiple remotes. While your remote can be programmed during your initial setup, loss of battery power or upgrading to a new TV may require that you reprogram your remote. You can program the remote in two ways, by inputting the setup codes for your TV or by scanning through codes manually. Locate the setup code for your TV or other device. These codes can be found in your DirecTV user manual or on the DirecTV website. There you will be asked to select your remote control model, located on the upper-left side of your remote. Once selected, enter the brand name and model number of the TV or other device that you are trying to program to your Philips DirecTV remote. Click "Search" to locate the proper code or codes for your device. Slide the selector switch to the "TV" setting. If you want to program another device, such as a DVD player or surround-sound system, select either the "AV1" or "AV2" positions. Turn on your TV, or the other device that you are attempting to program. Press and hold the "Mute" and "Select" buttons at the same time, until the green light underneath the "TV" icon on your remote flashes twice, then release the buttons. Enter the five-digit setup code for your TV using the number keys on the remote. If the code was entered correctly, the green light under the "TV" selection on your remote will flash twice. Press the "Power" button on your remote while aiming the remote at your TV. If the TV powers down, write down the code for future reference. If your TV has multiple codes listed, you may need to try each code until you find one that works with your specific model. Repeat this process, inputting a new code into the remote each time until your remote successfully powers off your TV. If none of the known codes work with your TV, you may be able to search for the code. Turn on your TV or other device that you would like to control with the Philips DirecTV remote. Move the slide switch to TV, AV1 or AV2. Press and hold the "Mute" and "Select" buttons until the green light under the switch position blinks twice. Enter the code "9910" to search for satellite setup codes, "9911" for TV setup codes, "9912" for VCR or DVD setup codes or "9913" for stereo or surround-sound setup codes. Point the remote at the TV or device that you are trying to program and press the "Channel Up" button slowly and repeatedly until the device turns off. Stop pressing the "Channel Up" button immediately after your TV or device turns off and press the "Select" key to lock the code into the remote. Verify the code by pressing and releasing the "Mute" and "Select" buttons and enter the code "990." To view the first digit in your code, press and hold the "1" button. Your remote will flash a number of times; these flashes will count out the first number of your device's setup code. Repeat this process, pressing and holding numbers 2-5 on the remote to retrieve the corresponding number associated with your device's setup code. By Steve Lander The RCA RCU600m is a universal remote control. It can control up to six devices, including a television, videocassette recorder, DVD player, audio system, cable box and satellite receiver. Like many universal remote controls, it is programmed with a database of device codes, allowing you to control many different satellite receiver brands and models by entering the code for that device. The RCU600m also includes presets to control devices made by RCA and its family of brands, which includes some DirecTV receivers. Press the "Power" button on your DirecTV satellite receiver to turn it on. Press and hold the "Code Search" key on the remote control until the indicator lights. Press the remote's "DBS-SAT" key. You should see the indicator blink off and then illuminate. Use the numerical keypad to enter the three-digit code for your receiver and watch for the indicator to turn off, confirming a successful entry. You can look up codes in the list linked in the Resources section of this article. Since DirecTV was once tied to Hughes Network Systems, try those codes first if your receiver brand is not listed. Press the "On-Off" key on the remote control while you are aiming it at the satellite receiver. If it turns off, you used the correct code; if not, repeat this procedure and try different codes until you find the correct one. Press the "Power" button on your DirecTV satellite receiver to turn it on. Hold down the "Code Search" key on the remote control until the light under the "On-Off" button illuminates. Press the "DBS-Sat" button. The light will blink off and then illuminate again. Aim the remote at your satellite receiver. Find a comfortable position -- you may be holding it there for a while. Press the "On-Off" button. If you press it once, the remote will automatically send a different code to the receiver every three seconds. When the receiver turns off, press the "Enter" key immediately. Alternately, press the "On-Off" key repeatedly until your satellite receiver turns off. When it does, press "Enter" to store the code. how to pair directv remote with genie mini
